"Panther Chutes" Camp

Wednesday, August 2, the "Pathfinders" were taken in autos by Paul Kirker and U. A. Griffin to their summer camp which is situated on the banks of the Rogue about one half mile from the Griffin Ferry.

Each girl has testified to the time of her life. Thirty nine fish tell the fish story up to date. Many girls have fished to no avail as they cannot keep still long enough to catch cold. Swimming has however proven the most popular afternoon diversion. Everyone is doing full justice to the "victuals" prepared by the French chef at "Shovel Inn."

At the close of the day all gather 'round a glorious campfire where the "Howl Quartette" can be heard so far as to call in all the neighbors. When the quartette has finished its program "Tumble Inn" is a most popular attraction as ghosts and weird figures form in a circle to enjoy the war dance around the smudge campfire at "Tumble Inn."

Picnic on Court House Lawn.
Flags and Japanese lanterns were effectively used in decoration of the attractive supper scene laid on the north court yard lawn in the late afternoon of August 3, when the county officials, with their wives and families gathered to partake of the bounteous spread served on the court yard tables.

Sweet peas and roses were used in table decoration. Covers were laid for fifty and each place marked by a dainty pansy place card.

The menu consisted of fried chicken, boiled ham, baked fish, baked potatoes, roasting ears, baked beans, hot rolls, coffee, ice cream, cake and marshmallows. After all had done full justice to the sumptuous feed a social visit was enjoyed on the lawn.

Birthday Surprise

A delightful birthday surprise was given at the Hoag home on North Seventh street by the Misses Hazel Shook and Thelma Waldron in honor of Miss Phoebe Hoag on her thirteenth birthday Saturday, July 29.

Outdoor games lead the afternoon diversion. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. Those present were Charilla Tetherow, Florence Williams, Pearl Hodgkinson, Evelyn Anderson, Sylvia Castor, Virginia Green, Thelma Waldron, Phoebe Hoag, Hazel Shook, Chester Williams, Norman Kendall, Alvia Castor and Johnny Williams.

Anna Calvert Entertains

On the thirty-first day of the Thunder when the sun hung low in the west at the lodge of Sacajawea there was Umsewee all night time, all day time. An oxcart in the form of Dean's taxi called for the campfire guests at the hour mentioned and carried them to the home of Miss Anna Calvert.

The guests were first taken to the movies where they enjoyed the exciting "Blacklist. Again they repaired to the Calvert home and a delicious luncheon of punch, brick ice cream, devil and angle cake was served. Bonbons were given in dainty place card boxes. In memory of her nineteenth birthday, Miss Calvert was presented with a small suitcase filled with toilet articles to accompany her to college next fall. A hilarious evening was spent in music and dancing. In the wee small hours the young ladies found the outdoor beds very comfortable though all heard roosters crowing "morning" before they slept.

At eight fifteen the hungry girls became partakers of a bounteous breakfast of halved oranges, fried ham, egg omelet, hot biscuits, with chocolate cake.

After wishing their charming hostesses many happy birthdays a vote of thanks was given her mother Mrs. Lee Calvert. Those present were the Misses Esther Glikkey, Helen Fifield, Winifred Fifield, Evelyn South, Dora Herman, Uida Bastler, Estella Feldmaier, Lucille Garber, Grace Presley, Anna Calvert and the guardian, Mrs. Harry K.
